McMillan was the officiating minister.

The happy couple left immediately after the ceremony for a honeymoon to be spent at Banff, Lake Louise and Edmonton. Upon their return they will make their home in Kimberley. —Kimberley Courier.

DOUGLAS SOCIAL CREDIT SYSTEM MEETING

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rogers and Mr. Unwin, of Calgary, will address a public meeting in Coleman Community hall on Tuesday, June 19, on the Douglas System of Social Credit. The local committee in Coleman has arranged a short program of musical and vocal selections between the addresses, and as this subject has been in the public mind very largely of late, it is expected there will be many at the meeting. At Hillcrest Mr. George E. Cruickshank, M.L.A., will be chairman of the meeting, and in Coleman Mayor Pattinson has been invited to preside.

With the fine weather of several days past, the high waters in local district streams have considerably receded.

Mrs. Mark entertained a few guests last week in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Tonge's, birthday. There were about sixteen ladies present. Whist was played during the evening, in which Mrs. Brown, of Coleman, won first prize and Mrs. T. Hadwell won second prize. Mrs. Tonge was the recipient of many nice gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. McDougall left by motor on Saturday upon receipt of news of the illness of Mr. McDougall's sister at Kamloops. Mrs. Tim Buck, wife of the Communist leader now serving a term in Kingston penitentiary, has received the Communists' nomination in Toronto for the provincial legislature. A. E. NEWLY APPOINTED SHERIFF TAKES OFFICE

Kenneth G. Craig, LL.B., whose appointment as sheriff and clerk of the Court for the Judicial District of Macleod was announced recently, assumed his new duties on June 1st. Mr. Craig comes to Macleod from Nanton, where he has practised his profession for the past four years. Mrs. Craig and the children will remain in Nanton until the close of the school term, when the family will take up residence here.

Mr. Craig is a son of the late L. C. Craig, school inspector at Amherst, N.S., who was a well known character in Nova Scotia, and who will be remembered by many local Nova Scotians. The newly appointed sheriff attended Acadia College at Wolfville, later entering Dalhousie University, from where he graduated in 1910. In the same year he came west to Calgary, where he practised until 1916 as a partner of the late Judge J. L. Jenkinson. In 1912 he married Miss Leila L. Lawson, of Calgary. On the appointment of his partner to the bench in 1916, Mr. Craig carried on the practice of the firm until 1924, in which year he moved to Blairmore, later moving to Nanton in 1930.

Mr. Craig succeeds G. Ryder Davis, LL.B., who resigned with effect from June 1st, when he took over the practice of Judge Jos. D. Matheson. During the past month Miss Henry has been acting sheriff.—Macleod Gazette.

Quick Relief Now From Neuralgia

Real ASPIRIN Starts Taking Hold in Few Minutes

Now comes amazingly quick relief from headaches, rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia... the fastest relief, it is said, yet discovered.

Those results are due to a scientific discovery by which an Aspirin Tablet begins to dissolve, or disintegrate, in the amazing space of two seconds after being moistened. And hence to start "taking hold" in a few minutes after taking.

The illustration of the glass, here, tells the story. An Aspirin Tablet starts to disintegrate almost instantly you swallow it. It is ready to go to work almost instantly.

When you buy, though, be on guard against substitutes. Be sure you get ASPIRIN's quick relief, be sure the name Bayer in the form of a cross is on every tablet of Aspirin.

Does Not Harm the Heart

Gold Still Is King

The lure of gold continues to exercise its sway upon the minds of men. Countries may go off the gold standard. New economists may argue, as they will, against gold as a monetary basis. Despite all the argument "about it and about," the yellow metal still casts its potent spell, alluring men to brave hardship and danger in its quest, impelling men to undertake hazardous expeditions to win it, inducing countries to exert desperate efforts to acquire it. Mirage or otherwise, it glides the horizon of new prophet and old priest, of poet and peasant, of rich and poor, of commoner and peer. Phantasm or reality—gold still is King.

These somewhat without platitudes are evoked by the recent appearance in a financial journal, of two items on gold which, strangely enough, were placed in close proximity. The one was headed: "Nations still scrambling for gold," and the other "£300,000,000 Buried by Pirates Sought."

The one article demonstrates the reason why the gold tradition has upon world statesmen; the other epitomizes the ingenuity and risk employed and undertaken in efforts to win the precious metal—a gamble with life and money.

Relative to the international scramble, it is stated that, Britain and other non-gold-standard countries, including the United States, of course, are buying gold wherever it can be bought, and that their accumulations of gold now break all previous records.

Replying to the question why the United States continues to purchase gold, the New York Times recently replied that, in principle at least, gold still remained the world's monetary standard. Continuing it said:

"No government is shaping its monetary policies in line with the dreams of the imaginative 'New School Economists'. Every government is recognizing the paramount necessity of return to a stabilized basis of international valuation. The nations are recognizing the underlying sentiment more clearly than the fact that every nation—even those which have suspended gold payments—is guarding the gold reserve against the central bank note issues as scrupulously as it did half a dozen years ago. Whereas the Bank of England, at the beginning of 1933, held the smallest gold reserve in more than a dozen years, it has subsequently added nearly $350,000,000, bringing the reserve to the highest figure in its history. . . . The general process is indirect recognition of the gold standard. The possession of adequate and concentrated gold reserves would unquestionably be of high value whenever return of sound international conditions should make return to sound and stable currencies a possibility."

The other story is somewhat similar to the famous Cocos Island treasure hunt. It refers to a projected expedition from Britain to Tahiti in the South Pacific, to reclaim approximately "£300,000,000 in gold ingots and a fortune in jewels," said to have been buried by pirates in or about 1849. Usually such treasure hunts originate with discovery, in some peculiar manner, of a map of the cache. Such a map Stevenson introduced in "Treasure Island," so said, as allegedly may have been found tattooed on the chest of some old sailor in some Barbary Coast "dive". In this particular instance, the map came into possession of an Australian in 1900, who, it is said, visited the island and succeeded in removing some of the jewels. These, he subsequently buried—a peculiar enough action for which no reason is given. However, in March 6, 1934, the same gentleman claims to have located the treasure at the exact point indicated by the map.

Speaking of the discovery, he says:

"There are only two things to contend with in drilling for the loot—sand and coral. The drill went down through the sand, ground its way through the rough coral and rested on the gold. There is no rock off Tahiti and by the drills, we felt out the shape of the ingots and also are able to determine the extent of the treasure. The drills spin on gold just as a top would on a marble floor."

It is upon such evidence and such representations, apparently, that hard-headed British engineers and business men are prepared to risk their money, and expend their enterprise.

Floam and Jetam

Goods lost at sea and found floating are called floam. Goods thrown overboard or jettisoned during a storm, or washed up from a wreck, are called jetam.

They do not belong to the finder, even if he cannot trace the owner. They must be handed over to the Crown, and part of their value is paid in compensation.

The Great Zambesi Bridge

Remarkable Feat Of Engineering In Heart Of Rhodesia

Spanning the Zambesi Gorge stands one of the highest bridges in the world.

This bridge is in the heart of Rhodesia, far from civilization and so near to the great Victoria Falls that it is almost crossing the bridge are sometimes held up by spray from the turbulent water. The building of the Zambesi Bridge was a marvellous feat of engineering. First of all a rocket had to be fired across the bridge chasm. The rocket was attached to a line, which in turn was fastened to a length of wire and a steel rope.

During the construction of the bridge the builders worked at a dizzy height over the swirling waters below.

When workmen began their task a large net was spread beneath them to prevent catastrophes, should any of them lose their balance.

But instead of steadying their nerves they complained that the net was only as a constant reminder of their perilous position, and so it had to be removed. After a period of little more than six months the bridge was completed and a train travelling at fifteen miles an hour was driven across to test its strength. The structure was painted grey so that whenever the materials rusted in any part the defect would immediately be noticed. This impressive feat of engineering in the wilds in no way detracts from the beauty of the scenery.

Harbor Expert Dead

Sir Frederick Palmer Who Recommended Churchill Was Noted Engineer

News reached Canada recently of the death at Lingfield, near London, England, of Sir Frederick Palmer, the man whose recommendation caused Churchill to be developed as Western Canada's northern sea outlet.

When Hon. C. A. Dunning assumed the portfolio of minister of railways in the Dominion cabinet in 1926, he sent to England for Sir Frederick, one of Britain's most noted engineers.

Sir Frederick went into the northland and after an extensive investigation, recommended to Mr. Dunning that Churchill be the northern port instead of Nelson.

The recommendation was acted upon, and Churchill became the outlet to the world for Western Canada via the sea.

For many years Sir Frederick was chief engineer of the Port of London Authority. He served as consulting engineer for many railways both in the old country and India, in addition to being engineer of the Calcutta port. In 1929 he was named engineer for the new $62,000,000 Charing Cross bridge, London.

Recipe For Iced Tea

Use six heaping teaspoons of "Salada" Black Tea. Brew tea in six pints of freshly boiled water for one minute. Strain, and pour liquid into two quart containers. While hot, add 1½ cups of granulated sugar and juice of 2 lemons. Then shake vigorously until the sugar is completely dissolved. Fill container with cold water. Do not allow tea to cool before adding the cold water. Other wise liquid will become cloudy. This is now ready to serve in tall glasses with clipped ice or cubes. A slice of lemon may be added if desired. The above will make two quarts of iced tea, or seven tall glasses.

Soldiers Stayed In France

Over Thousand Americans Married And Made Home There

More than fifteen years after the bugles blew "cease firing," about 1,100 American veterans of the World War linger in France. Most of them are "voluntary exiles" for the sake of French wives. Their numbers are dwindling, however, for in 1931 they were 3,700 strong, figures gathered by the American Legion "lost" show. More than half live in Paris; the rest are spread over forty-nine departments.

Willington To Co-operate

"Woman is very unreasonable," said a sensible New Hampshire justice of the peace. "I remember that my wife and I were talking over our affairs one day, and we agreed that it had come to the point where we must both economize. 'Yes, my dear,' I said to my wife, 'we must both economize.' Both 'Very well, Henry,' she said, with a tired air of submission, 'you shave yourself, and I'll cut your hair.'"

Author Of "Beautiful Joe"

Miss Margaret Marshall Saunders Receives Recognition From The

Smiling and happy at being named in the King's birthday honors list, 73-year-old Miss Margaret Marshall Saunders received many congratulatory messages from friends in Canada and the United States. She was named as Commander of the British Empire.

"The honor done me is as much an honor to the women members of the many clubs with which I have done humane work," said Miss Saunders, whose story of "Beautiful Joe," a dog, has been published in 14 languages, put into Braille and is now being translated to Japanese and Burmese. "It touches me much," she said, "that such a tribute should be given to the humane side of women's work."

Miss Saunders, who was born at Liverpool, N.S., did her first serious writing after she was 30 years old. She entered in a United States contest her "Beautiful Joe" as a companion story to "Black Beauty," then being widely published on behalf of humane work. Her entry won the prize and her work became known throughout the world.

After Colonial Sugar Duties

Britain Diverts West Indies Product Back To Canada

The British House of Commons has approved proposals contained in a white paper issued in April to alter the colonial sugar duties in such a way as to divert the flow of the commodity to Canada.

The white paper, issued when the Budget was being debated, said sugar back to Canada from which it was driven when the pound sterling reached a premium in Canadian funds.

Fall in value of the Canadian dollar had led the sugar trade between the Dominion and the British West Indies and sent most of the commodity to the United Kingdom.

The New Style Bicycle

Velocor Allows Rider To Assume Recumbent Position

Rest when you cycle, may be the sales slogan of Stewart and Ernest Worrall, of Hamilton, Scotland, for their new invention, which they call the velocor. They predict a day not far distant when the ordinary bicycle will take its place beside the bone-shaker and cyclists of the past. The rider of the velocor sits in a semi-horizontal position, thus making it more comfortable than the ordinary machine, and the handlebars stretch almost from the front to the back wheel. A recent race between velocorists and cyclists of the past, the rider of the velocor won by a wide margin in an overwhelming victory for the new machine.

Hurricanes On The Sun

May Cause Drought And Dust Storms Says Veteran Student

Swirling hurricanes on the sun may be the cause of droughts and dust storms in the Mid-West. These great solar storms, which appear to astronomers as mere sun spots are reaching an 11-year period of maximum intensity. Dr. C. G. Abbott of Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C., and a group of astronomers at Paris realized in a weather predicting, is confident they have a great effect on weather all over the earth. And "I would not say flatly that they have no connection with this drought in the Mid-West."

Martyr To Radium

Last Of Scientists Who Aided Mm. Curie Is Dead

Henry T. Koenig, 42, a chemist of Denver, Colorado, who had worked for years on a self-imposed death sentence, died a martyr to his research work in radium.

Koenig was the 20th to die of the 20 scientists who aided Mme. Curie, discoverer of radium, in her research work.

One by one, Koenig's companions died from malignant infection induced by contact with the mineral. But he continued his work, although he knew that each contact further weakened his system. Through his work and that of his companions thousands have been given relief.

Koenig's work in perfecting a system whereby radium extraction could be accomplished at a lower price than ever before was recognized by authorities as one of the greatest contributions to medical science.

He studied the rich radium ore of the Belgian Congo in 1922 and 1923. His development of the ore in this region remedied all danger of a monopoly in radium.

During the World War he adapted radium to practical use in warfare. The use of radium for the illumination of watch dials at night was the result of his research.

Three months ago he was ordered to Fort Snelling, suffering from cancer of the hip. Treatment failed to check the disease and he died.

Irrigation Plans

Proposal To Irrigate Large Block Of Land In Southwest Saskatchewan

Irrigation for between 5,000 and 10,000 acres in southwest Saskatchewan is proposed in a plan to be urged before the Saskatchewan government.

Facing a feed shortage for the third consecutive year, farmers around Valmarie and Cadillac ask $100,000 expenditure to build a dam on the Frenchman river with a 15-mile main ditch south and east through foothills.

Alfalfa would be sown with two crops a year, providing a likely crop of 25,000 tons or enough to feed 20,000 cattle.

An experimental dam is being built by George Newton to serve his farm a few miles west of Valmarie.

J. E. Reid, Regina, is doing the engineering work. A small dam is being built at the Frenchman river, pump installed, and the scheme developed to supplying about 250 acres.

Mr. Reid said that with two crops a year about 1,500 tons of alfalfa can be grown, sufficient to feed 3,000 cattle.

Canada Leads The Way

Comes First In Industrial Recovery According To League Figures

Canada leads the way in industrial activity.

League of Nations figures for the first quarter of 1934, compared with the first quarter of last year, show these per centage increases in industrial activity:

Canada, 30 per cent.; United States, 30 per cent.; Germany and Poland, 25 per cent.; Sweden, 18; Japan, 11; Norway, 6; France, 3.

Unemployment is decreasing in all the principal countries of the world except France.

World production of certain important commodities shows an appreciable increase, the figures also reveal. During the first quarter of 1934, production of coal increased by 20 per cent., of gasoline 12 per cent., pig iron 51 per cent., steel 54 per cent. and zinc 37 per cent., in comparison with the same period of last year.

On the other hand the gold value of world trade again shows a decrease for the first quarter of 1934.

Fraudulent Stock Promotions

Government To Put Spike In Work Of High-Pressure Salesmen

The House of Commons took the first step recently to spike the work of high-pressure stock salesmen when it reviewed the Cansquidated Companies act which practically remodels the laws governing company formation.

Designed to stop fraudulent stock promotions, the bill would make it impossible to sell promotion stock except through a prospectus, approved by the secretary of state. Among other provisions, fines and imprisonment would be established for any house-to-house stock canvasser or any organization that used a telephone and sucker list to promote sales. Penalties would range from $500 for a first offence to $1,000 and a year in jail for subsequent convictions.

Hero Of Russo-Japanese War

Admiral Togo, Who Died Recently, Was Idol Of Japanese People

Admiral Marquis Kelmachiro Togo, the silent little man whose destruction of the Tsar's Russian fleet 29 years ago placed Japan on the great powers, died at Tokyo recently. At the age of 86 and with the rank of Japan's greatest hero, he surrendered to cancer of the throat.

Admiral Togo was the last and most illustrious of all the heroes of the Russo-Japanese war. For several weeks he had been seriously ill. The day before he died the emperor elevated the aged sea hero from the rank of count to that of marquis. Posthumously he was promoted to admiral of the highest court rank.

MARKETING BILL IS PASSED AFTER BITTER DEBATE

Ottawa.—Climaxing weeks of bitter debate the House of Commons divided 85 to 35 in support of third reading of the marketing bill.

Unleashing a typical verbal barrage, barred with pen-up resentment at criticism, and charges leveled at the administration by the Liberal opposition, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett presented the final government argument, declaring that every year it was in office the Mackenzie King government enacted legislation delegating to lesser bodies of its creation the powers it once claimed were the sole prerogatives of parliament.

This was in reply to the main attack of the opposition. If the opposition believed the government was doing wrong in delegating powers to marketing boards, then it was going against not only the highest court in the Empire, the privy council, but against its own policies when in power, said Mr. Bennett.

Bitterly denying charges of the opposition that the bill was but a step toward a proposed centralization of marketing regulation within the Empire, Mr. Bennett declared "this legislation is for Canada and Canadians."

"I have no apologies to offer for the trade agreements of 1932," the prime minister added. "But for those Ottawa agreements this country could barely have survived."

Hon. W. F. McMillan (Liberal, Manitoba), minister of agriculture in the government of Mr. Mackenzie King, who was one of the bitterest critics of the measure, split with his party in order to support it because, he said, imperfect as he found it in detail the principle of assisting the farmers to secure a better return for their effort was one he could not oppose.

He was the sole Liberal supporter. All of the Progressive group supported the measure and the Conservatives voted solidly. The two Independent members voted with the Liberal opposition.

Rain Revives Crops

Crop Prospects Throughout West Greatly Improved

Winnipeg.—Jubilant over crop prospects throughout Western Canada's wheat belt grew with further rainfall over the western southern sections. For the farmer the era of dust and drought was fast becoming a memory.

Light to moderate showers fell over southern Saskatchewan and some parts of southern Alberta. Scattered showers were reported over widespread sections of Manitoba.

Cool temperatures continued to hold in check a grasshopper menace that a week ago threatened to become acute. Many farmers in Alberta and Manitoba, their hopes renewed by rains that ended a 13-day drought, discussed plans to remain on farms they announced would be abandoned.

To Build Elevators

Moscow Getting Ready For Future Bumper Crops

Moscow.—The Soviet union is holding herself in readiness for future bumper wheat harvests by building great grain elevators. Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported.

Before the revolution the number of grain elevators in Russian territory was insufficient. Since 1924, however, the government has proceeded with the construction of new elevators and the reconstruction of old ones.

By the end of 1932 there were already 574, with a total capacity of 2,000,000 metric tons. (A metric ton is 36.7 bushels of wheat.) During the first five-year plan 105,000,000 rubles were devoted to these undertakings.

During 1933, the first year of the second five-year plan, elevators having a total capacity of 180,000 tons were built. This year many of these elevators, including that of 50,000 metric ton capacity at Mariupol, will be put into service.

Advocates Works Program

Premier Pattullo Of B.C. Urges Huge Expenditure

Vancouver.—Premier T. D. Pattullo returned to his long-time advocacy of a $200,000,000 public works program in Canada, and in the same address declared British Columbia would pay the principal of her debts 100 cents on the dollar.

He was addressing a joint gathering of the Vancouver Board of Trade and Canadian Club.

"I don't want to inflate," he said, outlining his public works proposal. "I don't want to take a dollar from a man who has it, but he is going to lose it if unemployment continues."

The difference of opinion between his government and the Dominion on public works, was not one of principle, but of amount.

He suggested sufficient currency could be issued to create a credit of $200,000,000, which could be loaned to the provinces on a per capita basis without interest. It would be paid back through sinking fund within the lifetime of the works undertaken. The increase in debt would not be sufficient to hurt the country's external credit.

Held Many Important Posts

Former Resident Of Winnipeg Died Recently In England

Winnipeg.—W. L. Griffiths, former secretary to the Canadian high commissioner in England, died at London June 5. According to cable advice received here, Death "was ascribed to heart disease. He was 69 years of age."

Mr. Griffiths came to Winnipeg from Bangor, North Wales, 50 years ago and was one of the first exporters of Manitoba wheat to Great Britain. In 1897, during the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, he was appointed Canadian commercial agent.

He succeeded J. G. Colmer as secretary to Lord Strathcona, then high commissioner, in 1903. Later he became the right-hand man of Sir George Perley and served during the World War. He retired shortly after Rt. Hon. P. C. Larkin took office in 1924. Two sons survive.

To Make A Profit

Government Stands To Make $35,000,000 On Sale Of Gold

Toronto.—The federal government stands to make a profit of approximately $35,000,000 in the gold which will be taken over from the Canadian banks at the statutory price of $20.87 an ounce, according to an estimate based on the latest official bank statement.

The government bank statement for April 30, the latest available, gives the amount of coin in possession of the banks as $39,928,171. A Toronto banker estimated for the Canadian Press that 95 per cent. or about $38,000,000 of the total, was in gold coin. In addition the banks hold at agencies outside Canada $9,159,554, bringing the total up to roughly $47,000,000. The prevailing premium on gold, now selling in New York at $35 an ounce, is about 70 per cent. over the price of $20.87, giving a profit of $33,000,000.

Gishbourne and Carr were slain near the Canford Indian Reserve and their bodies thrown into the Nicola river. Gishbourne's body was recovered.

Three of the brothers, Richardson, Eneas and Alex have been charged with murder and were given preliminary hearing. Joseph is in hospital here with a fractured skull.

The convicted persons, all of whom were employees of the trust, included a number of members of the Communist party.

Want More Pay

Employees Of Canadian Packers Reported To Have Asked Company To Restore Wage Cut

Toronto.—The Toronto Globe states that 1,400 employees of Canada Packers Limited, were reported to have asked the company to restore in bulk a 10 per cent. wage cut made effective in 1931 and rescinded last October.

The newspaper quoted General Manager N. J. McLean, of the company, as saying the plant relations committee had approached the management with "certain questions," the nature of which he did not disclose.

It said the representations of the employee resulted from newspaper reports of the parliamentary committee's scrutiny of the affairs of the company.

Mr. McLean, it said, explained "certain questions were put to the management as a result of what happened at Ottawa."

FRANCE HAS A NEW PLAN FOR ARMS PARLEY

Geneva.—Temper were cooled down when the steering committee of the world disarmament conference met again and a new French plan of action was presented along with declarations that nobody more than France would welcome Germany back into the parley.

But although the atmosphere was calmer, there was no narrowing between the two great groups led by Britain, on the one side, and France on the other. With the gulf as wide as ever, the steering committee adjourned. In the meantime, the British, French, United States and other delegates will hold conferences in an effort to find agreement as to what may be proceeded with.

Roughly speaking, one section wants the parley adjourned so the governments can progress through diplomatic channels, chiefly attempting to get Germany back into the conference she left abruptly in October. The other wants the conference to get right down to work, chiefly discussing security, which is first and foremost so far as France is concerned.

"Germany's return overshadows all our discussions," declared Barthou, but he stuck to his statement that the conference could not go hat in hand and beg the Hitler government to return to the fold.

"No country would be more happy than France to see Germany return," he went on. "No door is closed. In the Saar question France has just shown her goodwill by joining in an international engagement to which Germany is a party."

The conference should neither impose conditions in Germany nor accept conditions from Germany," he added. "Germany must be able to cross the threshold with complete equality of rights—but she must also accept responsibilities which therefore will be common to all."

France To Export Wheat

Has 1,500,000 Bushels To Sell At Fifty Cents Is Report

Paris.—Reports were current here France is prepared to export more than 1,500,000 bushels of wheat at a price of slightly less than 50 cents a bushel. The wheat, it was said, would go to the United Kingdom and Denmark.

Usually well informed sources said they expected the French government would be asked to maintain a minimum domestic wheat price at a level to be determined after the yield of the current crop becomes known.

It was reported 50,000 metric tons (1,333,333 bushels) of wheat would be exported to Britain and Denmark at 28 francs (currently $1.82) a quintal. That would place the price at 49½ cents a bushel, f.o.b. French ports.

In addition the government would grant an export bounty of 80 francs a quintal (about $1.41 a bushel) bringing the total price paid exporters to 108 francs a quintal ($1.91 a bushel) as compared with the present minimum domestic price of 130 francs a quintal (about $2.30 a bushel).

Rain Checks Forest Fires

Raging Less Furiously In Maritime Provinces But Serious In Ontario

Toronto.—Forest fires continued to burn in scattered areas of Maritime Canada and Newfoundland, but less furiously for rain in some districts held them in check. The situation in Ontario continues serious and 500 men are fighting the blazes.

Forest protection aviators reported an outbreak on the international border between Maine and New Brunswick that had been raging unbroken for a week, leaving in its wake a worthless stumpage of 40,000 acres.

Snowstorm In Idaho

Boise, Idaho.—A snowstorm whipped the high country of the Boise National Forest June 5, while flowers were in bloom. As much as four inches of snow piled up in some places. Most of it melted quickly.

R.C.M.P. Colors Arrive

Arrangements Being Made For Formal Presentation In July

Regina.—Of dark red silk, four feet by two and one-half feet in size, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police colors have reached Regina headquarters from London, England.

Colors will be formally presented next month. Arrangements for the presentation are being made by Ottawa.

The colors are elaborate and embellished with battles in which the force took part in its 61 years' service.

Battles commemorated on the colors include the Northwest Rebellion of 1885; the South African uprising of 1900-02; the Great War and the Siberian expedition of 1918-19.

Until the present, the force has never had its own colors.

Berry Shipments

B.C. Strawberry Consignments Have Already Totalled That Of Last Year

Victoria.—British Columbia strawberry shipments to prairie and eastern Canada markets have already equalled last season's totals and, by the end of the season, will be close to record figures, it was indicated by the markets branch of the provincial government.

To date 90 cars have been shipped and another 20 cars are ready to go. The record of 132 cars was established last year.

Six cars were sent as far east as Toronto and Montreal this year to beat the first time B.C. berries have reached that market in volume.

PAYMENTS ON WAR DEBTS SAID TO BE RUINOUS

London.—The House of Commons shouted overwhelming approval as Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, announced that war debt payments to the United States have been suspended until the United States is ready for a conference on a reasonable final settlement.

A loud shout of "hear, hear," from opposition and government benches alike the chancellor declared "we are not defaulters." If Britain could have been assured she would not be in default June 15 by making another token payment, then she would have been willing to make a payment as concrete evidence of good faith, he added.

But since the Washington congress passed the Johnson bill, President Roosevelt could not assure nations paying a "token" that they would not be in default. Therefore Britain decided to suspend payments entirely.

But the chancellor stressed that Britain has never contemplated repudiating the debt.

When the British ambassador in Washington was told after passage of the Johnson bill that token payments would be classified as default, said Mr. Chamberlain, the government had to choose between paying the full $262,000,000 or else suspending all payments pending a final revision of the existing war debt settlement.

That settlement was labelled unjust in the British note to Washington. For one thing, Britain has paid roughly half the amount she owed, yet finds herself over more than ever because of interest.

"The resumption of full payment would have revived the whole system of inter-governmental war debt payments and would have postponed indefinitely the chances for world recovery," said the chancellor.

There was a little resentment that Washington made the note public, whereas the British government intended it would be released simultaneously with announcement in London. The chancellor, however, merely said that owing to some confusion it was released shortly after being presented, but he did not blame the United States government.

The position was generally approved by the press. The Liberal Star declared the action should have been taken long ago, and took it for granted the note opened the way for clearing up the whole situation.

"The note makes clear in the most middle-western mind," the Star added, "that any attempt to resume these payments will be ruinous to both countries."

U.S. PAVES WAY TO NEGOTIATE TRADE TREATIES

Washington.—The United States congress has given President Roosevelt unprecedented power to negotiate reciprocal tariff treaties and almost at the same time Germany and Argentina acted to be among the first to negotiate the new pacts.

Quick acceptance by the house of representatives of senate amendments to the legislation completed congressional action and the measure was sent to the White House where the president was expected to sign it into law without delay.

In voting the measure congress delegated to the president vast authority, previously jealously guarded by the legislative branch, to increase or decrease existing tariffs by as much as 50 per cent. in making trade agreements with foreign nations as a means of stimulating trade and speeding recovery.

Anxious to start preliminary negotiations on trade treaties, Felipe A. Esplá, Argentine ambassador, and Hans Luther, the German ambassador, made official calls at the state department and bespoke the interest of their government in beginning discussions at once.

Negotiations for a new commercial treaty with Cuba already are under way and Canada, Sweden, Brazil, Mexico, Portugal and Spain are understood to have made overtures during recent weeks.

Planning Abandonment Of Duplicated Lines

Railways Co-operating In Effort To Reduce Expenses

Ottawa.—It would be improper for the trustees of the Canadian National Railways to enter into any controversy over the suggestions for amalgamation publicly advanced by E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific, in opinion of C. P. Fullerton, chairman of the trustees, expressed before the house committee on railways and shipping.

Mr. Fullerton made his second appearance before the committee and presented a brief covering "three phases of the railway problem, co-operation with the Canadian Pacific, capitalization and amalgamation proposals."

The co-operation efforts up to date had yielded a saving estimated at $1,260,000 in yearly joint economies. Projects of co-operation to reduce duplication now under study involved abandonment of approximately 2,100 miles of line on 36 different projects, while Canadian National economies contemplate further abandonment of 1,150 miles of light-trail lines in various parts of the country.

Praises Wheat Pool

Premier Bennett Says Alberta Pool Has Helped Farmers

Ottawa.—"I still think that no wheat pool has operated more reasonably and beneficially to the people concerned than the Alberta wheat pool," Prime Minister R. B. Bennett declared during the course of the debate on the Marketing Act. He personally witnessed the formation of the Alberta wheat pool and had a part in the task as legal adviser. Manitoba and Saskatchewan also established pools.

"If they endeavored to project their idea into the world market without full understanding of what was involved and met with a measure of disaster, that does not fault against the soundness of what they were attempting to do," the prime minister said.

Manitoba House Prorogues

1934 Session Of Legislature Brought To Close

Winnipeg.—The 1934 session of the Manitoba legislature stood prorogued with legislation enabling farmers of the province to organize under the Dominion Marketing Control Act written into the statutes. The vote was 37 to seven.

It was announced by the premier to permit setting up of a marketing board to function under the Dominion act as well as under provincial statute. The provision authorizing the co-operation with the Dominion board remains in the bill.

Apartheid was given a resolution urging the federal government to continue unemployment relief arrangements.

One of the many resolutions presented to the recent session of the Dominion parliament by the Native Sons of Canada was worded thusly: "Resolved that the Native Sons of Canada recommend that, in the event of war, before the manking of our country be conscripted, a conscription of wealth be enacted, as the great greed for more wealth is now the prime cause of all wars." And another read: "Resolved that the Native Sons of Canada request the government of Canada to place an embargo on the export of nickel and nickel alloys, which are being exported from Canada to be used for munition purposes in other countries."

FATHER'S DAY

The time has come to recognize poor Father.
For him no poet chews a lyric rag.
Ma gets the lion's share of ballyhooing rather,
And modest Dad must always dip his flag.
We fain would now turn all domestic tables—
Let some musician fix a yicked tune.
Just for a lark, let's change the blooming labels.
You bet your shirt, Pa's day is coming soon!
Chorus (baritone only)—
"F" is for the few breaks fortune gives me.
"A—" acknowledged "aaa" of any age.
"T," teetotal time that tries my temper;
"H—" the hen-pecked husband's heritage.
"E" is for eclipse, enshadowed ever;
"R" the rotten recompense returned.
String them all together, they spell "Father."
The greatest guy on earth, is what you've learned.
We allocate a holiday for mother—
A well-deserving subject, it is true.
At raising kids they say there is no other,
But Dad goes fifty-fifty in it, too.
Sob-sisters sing of birthday stress and flurry,
And all forget the guy behind the door,
Who walks the boards all night, and mustn't worry,
Then goes to work next morn to earn some more.
Chorus (soprano only)—
"F" is for the favors fate forbade me.
"A" the anxious agony of age.
"T" is for the teapots—not for Daddy.
"H" is for the halter hymen made.
"E" for early exit out of Eden;
"R" for ruminations of regret.
Stick 'em all together—you'll find Father,
Whom Ma still figures "crazy guy," you bet!

Fourteen thousand eight hundred and forty-three happy holidaymakers can't be wrong, or so the Canadian Pacific Steamships expect to prove this summer with four short sea cruises by the Duchess of Richmond between Montreal and New York.

During the last three summers two Duchess liners have made between them eleven of the nine day trips, the popularity of which has been shown by the fact that 14,843 passengers were carried on these vacation cruises.

The Duchess of Richmond's cruise departures from Montreal will be on July 21, July 31, August 19 and August 20, and from Quebec the evening of the same day. Sixteen hours will be spent in New York on July 25, August 4, August 14 and August 24, with return to Montreal on July 30, August 9, August 19 and August 29. The day prior to arrival in Montreal eight hours will be spent in Quebec, with opportunities and facilities provided for exploration of the Ancient Capital and surrounding districts such as the Cote de Beaupre, with its famous Shrine of St. Anne. Sightseeing trips in New York will also be arranged for those who wish to take them.

All the "trimmings" such as characterize a lengthier cruise have been planned for the Duchess of Richmond's nine day cruises, and each day of the trip down the majestic St. Lawrence and around the scenic coasts of Nova Scotia and New England will be a complete experience in itself.

Facilities for enjoyment, both in exercise and relaxation, include an open-air swimming-pool, a gymnasium, deck-tennis, horse-racing, shuffleboard and many other sports, and also the opportunity for lazy do-nothingness, for which no better medium can be found than a comfortable deck-chair on a long sunny afternoon.

William Webber, who has directed all previous "Duchess" cruises to New York, will again be cruise director, and all manner of entertainment and organized enjoyment for the cruise members will be provided under his direction and that of the Staff-Captain and the Directress of Entertainment. In command will be Captain Arthur Robb, for several years commander of the Montcalm and recently appointed to the Duchess of Richmond.

ADVERTISEMENTS Are POINTERS

A retail store will do more business if attention is directed to it by thousands of pointers. Imagine thousands of fingerposts scattered over a retailer's trading area, everyone of them pointing in the direction of the retailer's store, and bearing his name. It would cost a lot of money to set up and maintain thousands of fingerposts, and it might be difficult to get permission to set up these fingerposts from those having authority. But if one could have them, they would be good advertisements—good directors.

Advertisements in one's newspaper are in very truth pointers. Every copy of the newspaper carrying the retailer's advertisement makes that advertisement a fingerpost. The advertisement multiplied thousands upon thousands of times, becomes thousands upon thousands of fingerposts.

INTERESTING RESOLUTIONS SUBMITTED TO RECENT SESSION OF PARLIAMENT

Following are some of the resolutions submitted to the federal parliament by the Native Sons of Canada, through the prime minister, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett:

On behalf of the National Council of the Native Sons of Canada, we have the honor to present to you, Sir, and to the members of your Cabinet, the following Memorial, which embraces the collective opinions of the various assemblies throughout Canada, and to request that legislation be introduced at an early date enacting the points touched upon. We present this Memorial, mainly consisting of the resolutions passed at the National Council meeting held in the City of Ottawa in August, 1933.

We again have the honor to call to your attention as a matter which we suggest should have your immediate attention, the following recommendation of our National Council: We urge the Government of the Dominion of Canada to officially and formally sanction, authorize and adopt, a distinctively Canadian National Flag as and for the national flag of Canada, and we suggest to you that such flag should recognize and typify the complete sovereignty of the Canadian nation which at present exists.

We believe that, as a result of the change in Canada's constitutional position, it is incongruous that the definition of a Canadian citizen be contained in the Immigration Act and we, therefore, recommend that a new Act be drawn to definitely set out in full the definition of a Canadian citizen. This recommendation is made also in view of the fact that the association of Canada with the United Kingdom is now one of sentiment only; the political connection having ceased. We look forward to the time when the present Act will be repealed and Canadians will be recognized as Canadian subjects of the Canadian King instead of there being as at present a single allegiance, but a dual loyalty to country implied.

Whereas the proceedings of naturalization are governed by what may be referred to as the Imperial Naturalization Act, which came into force in January 1st, 1915, and since January 1st, 1918, naturalization is only procured under this Act, we recommend that the whole system and method of naturalization of persons desiring to become citizens of Canada should be thoroughly revised to conform with Canada's constitutional position, and we further recommend that a more rigid examination of such persons be adopted before naturalization is granted to them, and we further recommend that the actual ceremony connected with the granting of naturalization be done in a more formal manner in order that the importance of naturalization in Canada may be brought home to those seeking naturalization in this country. We further recommend that Canadian citizens should consist of two classes only: (a) those born in Canada; and (b) those naturalized by due process. The requirements of naturalization should be a declaration of single allegiance and devotion to Canada and its welfare, a period of residence in Canada of at least five years, and proof of sound mind and good character. In connection with the period of residence in Canada, may we suggest that consideration be given to the granting of first papers after a period of residence of one year and a declaration of intention of residing in Canada and of becoming Canadian citizens.

In view of the change that has taken place in regard to the constitutional position of Canada and the change of the international status of Canada which has taken place as a result of the declarations of the Imperial Conferences and the passing of the Statute of Westminster on December 11th, 1931, we present the following resolution:

"Whereas the Oath of Allegiance required by the Oaths of Allegiance Act is as follows: 'I, A.B., do sincerely

Train Run By Electric Eye

Invention Tested By German State Railways May Be Adopted

Trains in Germany will be operated by an electric eye if an invention recently tested by the German State Railways is adopted. Control of a train is through photo-electric cells which operate the brakes by means of a light signal, but the light itself is provided by the engine. A dynamo on the locomotive drives a lamp which throws an almost vertical cone of light into the air. Mirrors are arranged on upright supports at points along the line, and if the signal is against the train the mirrors will be in such a position as to meet the beam of light and throw it down on a pair of photo-cells mounted in the searchlight of the engine. The electric current from the cells operates a relay, and the brake magnets are opened and the train is brought to a standstill. The speed of the train can be automatically adjusted.

Thousands Always Ill

Reducing Funds For Public Health Not Sound Economy

Elimination of disease has more to increase material prosperity than any other one thing, declared Dr. Gordon Bates, of Toronto, general director of the Canadian Social Hygiene Council, in an address in Ottawa. But even to-day two per cent. of the population was constantly ill, representing 160,000 deaths in Canada. Parsimony in the expenditure of public funds for public health was unsound economy, maintained the doctor. The administering of food to children who were well would prevent diphtheria. Compulsory pasteurization of milk was another preventative that should be insisted upon in the interests of national health.

Find Indian Relic

Think Credit For Introducing Golf Should Go To Natives

The latest development in discovery of Indian relics around the Chaplin area, west of Moose Jaw on the C.P.R. main line is a ball of some sort of rock, light yellow in color, and smaller than a billiard ball. It is approximately the size of a billiard ball and was found by a member of the Reicher family on whose farm many arrow heads and other Indian relics have been located. Queries are being bandied about in Chaplin as to whether the credit for introducing golf should go to the Indians rather than to the Scots. Nothing resembling a golf club has been found as yet so maybe it was marbles or bowls that the original prairie denizens enjoyed in their spare time.

Air Mail Service In Britain

Establishment Of Regular Service For Summer Months

For the first time in British aviation history, ordinary mails were carried by air when the new air mail service between Inverness and Kirkwall, linking the far north of Scotland, was inaugurated.

Sir Frederick Williamson, director of postal services, at a luncheon in Inverness, pointed out establishment of the regular service for six summer months marked a great step in the internal air mail development now beginning, alongside railway and shipping as a regular agent for carriage of mails.

ENTRIGUING NECKLINE—SMART COOL SLEEVES LINES THAT SLENDERIZE THE HEAVIER FIGURE

To-day's model is just perfect for hot weather wear. Besides being unbelievably easy to make, it's surprisingly inexpensive. The pattern includes clear instructions as to how to cut it out and put it together. The scalloped treatment is optional. Carry it out as the original in a handkerchief-danish lawn print in blue on grey ground—you'll love it. The white organdie vest gives it a dainty touch.

Strip 1 seersucker can be worked out very effectively in this model.

Tub silk in white and pastels are charming too.

Style No. 867 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 50 inches bust. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 30-inch material with ½ yard of 35-inch contrasting and ¾ yards of binding.

Price of pattern 20 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

Woman Crown Attorney

Lady Lawyer Holds Responsible Post In British Guiana

When William Nedd, ex-postman, faced the charge of larceny of postal packets, the property of the British Guianese postmaster-general, it was a woman, Miss Iris de Freitas, B.C.L., who prosecuted on behalf of the crown. Nedd was sentenced to two years hard labor.

The talk of the Demerara assizes was the appearance of this remarkable lady lawyer, British Guiana's first and only woman in the exacting role of crown prosecutor.

She is the first woman in the West Indies and probably the first woman in the Caribbean to be given such an important post.

Miss de Freitas absolutely refutes the conscientious bachelor's suggestion that "Woman's place is still in the home." She is quite at home in the courts.

A modest, petite woman, her love of study lured her into pursuing legal honors.

Called to the bar at Georgetown, British Guiana in 1932, she won her spurs at the October sessions when she successfully defended the accused in a murder trial. She scored another personal triumph when she appeared for the crown at the full court of appeal. She is secretary to the franchise commission and legal assistant in the attorney-general's chambers.

An editor was dining out. "Would you like some more pudding?" his hostess asked.

"No, thank you," replied the editor, absent-mindedly. "Owing to tremendous pressure on space, I am reluctantly compelled to decline."

Little Journeys In Science

HELIUM

(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

It is a very interesting fact that scientists observed a new element in the sun long before it was discovered on the earth. This new gas was given the name helium, from the Greek word "hellos," meaning the new. It was detected in the sun by means of the spectroscopic, an instrument which the scientist uses to determine what elements are present in any light-giving body.

This gas occurs only in very small amounts in the air, but it is found in larger amounts (as much as one per cent.) in the natural gas of Texas, Kansas and Alberta. It is about seven times lighter than air and hence is used for inflating balloons and dirigibles. It will not burn and is so safer than hydrogen, which is a very inflammable gas. Helium is obtained from natural gas by freeing out or liquefaction of the combustible gases. At Calgary, Alberta, are located such plants, each of which can liquefy 60,000 cubic feet of gas per hour. The helium is taken out and the gases are then returned to the city mains.

Engineers have recently found an important use for this gas. Men obliged to work in compressed air, as in caissons under water in tunnel construction, often collapse when brought too quickly into air at ordinary pressure. This is because the nitrogen of the modern times has pressure in the blood, tissues, and even in the spinal cord. When the pressure is released, this nitrogen escapes in bubbles which may destroy the spinal cord, affect the brain, interfere with the action of the lungs, and even cause death. This limits the depths to which divers may go down with safety. Helium is much less soluble than nitrogen and diffuses more rapidly, so that if the lungs where the air pressure is reduced are filled with helium and oxygen instead of air, which is a mixture of nitrogen and oxygen, the danger is removed.

Fashion Show In Russia

Latest Paris Creations Shown To Thousands Of Women

The Dress and Linenette Trust of Soviet Russia has just completed its first fashion show. Forty thousand women came from all over the country to gaze with critical admiration at the latest fashions, derived from the latest Paris creations. What further proof is needed that the Revolution is dead? The exhibition may be even more significant than recognition by the United States. It may mark a turning-point in the history of the Soviet. True, the frills and frumpies of M. Jean Patou were "modified" to suit Soviet women, but it was just as much a fashion show as it was held in some Fifth Avenue salon—Washington Post.

It takes lots longer to prepare for peace than to prepare for war.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JUNE 17

THE BURNED LORD AND THE GREAT COMMISSION

Golden Text: "Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, even to the end of the world." Matthew 28:19, 20.

Lesson: Matthew 28:1-20.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 118:1-9.

Explanations And Comments

The Empty Sepulcher and Its Message, verses 1-6. The Evangelists make no attempt to describe the resurrection of Jesus; they report it simply and briefly. Matthew tells of the visit of Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to the sepulcher late on Saturday night (the Jewish Sabbath), as the first day of the week began to dawn. Mary Magdalene was from Magdala, a city on the western shore of the Sea of Galilee. She had been freed from "seven demons." Lk. 8:2, and is often wrongly confounded with "the woman who was a sinner" of Luke 7. The "other Mary" was the mother of James, Mt. 16:1. They had both been present at the crucifixion and at the burial, Mt. 27:56, 61.

The messenger "answered" the look of fear and amazement of the women and said: "Fear not ye, for I know that ye seek Jesus, who hath been crucified." "The fear gives reason for the soothing tone of the address. He recognizes them as friends of 'The Crucified'." (A. B. Bruce). Then he added the amazing news: "He is not here; for he is risen even as he said." Recall Mt. 12:40; Lk. 24:46. "Come," he further added, "see the place where the Lord lay." The condition of the tomb as seen by Peter and John is described in Jn. 20:5-7.

The Risen Christ Appears to the Women, verses 9-10. The women departed quickly with fear and great joy (how natural were both emotions) and hastened to bring the disciples word. Their emotions were greatly augmented when Jesus himself met them, saying, "All hail!" Casting themselves down before him, they took hold of his feet and worshipped him. Kindly Jesus reassured them, saying, "All hail!" and the women went to the mountain in Galilee where Jesus had had appointed a meeting. It was a well-known meeting place, and there Jesus came to them, appeared to them, and they were to be identified with the one mentioned by Paul in 1 Cor. 15:6, "as many as were seen by him."

"All authority hath been given unto me in heaven and on earth," these words Jesus asserted his right to command.

The future of his kingdom was Christ's supreme concern, and he issued his royal order: "Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you."

And lo, I am with you always, even to the end of the world. May these words become to us not only a belief, but an experience.

A Remarkable Pilgrim

Woman Walked Twelve Times From Oberammergau To Rome

With the death at Oberammergau of Catherine Kopp, the most remarkable pilgrim of modern times has passed away. Of peasant stock, she lived to be eighty-four, and made, on foot, twelve pilgrimages to Rome. She knew three Popes and had planned another pilgrimage for this spring. Each journey, involved walking over 1,200 miles. On reaching Rome she went straight to St. Peter's to pray at the Apostle's tomb. On one occasion she started on her homeward walk an hour after the late Pope Pius X. had received her. She made her first pilgrimage when she had passed her seventieth birthday.

Not American Innovation

The London Daily Telegraph says an invitation card, sent out by the Duke of Wellington, at the exhibition in the Royal United Services Institute, is a reminder that the dropping of the "u" in such words as "honour" and "labour" is not an American innovation. Like so many Americanisms it has Anglo-Saxon antecedents. The card asks for the "honour" of the company of Lieutenant-Governor Sir James Macdonell at the dinner given by the Duke to celebrate the anniversary of Waterloo.

The seven seed laboratories serving the seven inspection districts of Canada in carrying out the administration of the various Acts of Parliament by the Seed Branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture, are situated at Saskatoon, Regina, Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg, Edmonton, and Calgary. All chemical analyses are made at Ottawa, and the microscopical analyses also at Ottawa and at Toronto.

Agricultural Notes

Many Items Of Interest To The Western Farmer

While strawberries, like other fruits, are grown successfully on the prairies, they are not produced in commercial volume.

Sulphur has proved to be one of the most effective fungicides for the control of diseases caused by rust fungus.

Sales of hogs to stock yards and plant for the four months ended April 30 were approximately 19,000 more than for the corresponding period last year.

Of the clovers in 1933, red clover seed yielded particularly well in central and western Ontario, and this raised the total production in Canada above normal.

The basic reasons for the urge to form co-operative fruit associations in California during the past 60-odd years have been low prices to growers.

Shipments of livestock from Western to Eastern Canada for the first four months this year included 29,267 cattle; 164 calves; 82,908 hogs, and 40,423 sheep—all increases except hogs compared with last year.

In spite of the heavy decrease in Canadian exports of wheat to France in the past two years, this commodity still accounted for 61.54 per cent. of Canadian total sales to France in 1933.

The total value of the 1933 timothy seed crop is estimated at $103,000 as compared with $225,000 for the 1932 crop. The selling price per pound for the 1933 crop was about 9½ cents as compared with 5½ cents in 1932.

Grading and inspection of honey when exported are compulsory under the terms of the new Fruit and Honey Act. Honey, when shipped from one province to another, must also be graded but inspection is optional except for administrative purposes.

The increase in the sales of branded beef in Canada for the first four months of this year was considerably more than two million pounds compared with the corresponding period of last year, namely, 12,209,656 pounds this year; 10,167,515 pounds last year.

One factor which is favourable to the consumption of Canadian and other Empire tobaccos in the United Kingdom is the decision of the United States government to restrict tobacco acreage and to force leaf prices to a more economic level by increasing the price to smokers.

Air-dried peat and muck will absorb 2 to 6 times their weight of liquid, and in this respect they are very favourable with straw, the bedding material almost universally used on the farm. Peat moss, commonly known as moss litter, may absorb ten to fifteen times its own weight of liquid.

The government of Canada first appointed an official entomologist in 1884, but the real development and expansion of the work did not begin until about 1909 when the finding of the dreaded brown tail moth in shipments of nursery stock from France necessitated the passing of legislation in 1910, giving the government power to inspect plant products entering Canada, and to take steps to prevent the spread of insect pests already prevalent in the Dominion.

The European house cricket which is an annoyance in certain urban areas in southern Ontario is established in Ottawa, occasionally infesting dwellings, particularly furnace basements.

SYNOPSIS

Camilla, Hoyt and Peter Anson, young and in love, marry secretly, deciding to live their own lives apart until Peter is able to provide for her. Peter is a young, struggling sculptor trying to win a competition for a scholarship abroad and Camilla is the adopted daughter of a wealthy family. She is not to inherit money when she comes of age and is studying commercial art in the hope of handling an agency like her mother. The story is told from the point of view of Peter. Voices, sounds, rushed back to her from a void. . . her head . . . where was she . . . what had happened? She tried to raise her hand, but it would not move, it was too great an effort to open her eyes.

The medley of sounds resolved into distinct words. Ah! Yes, she remembered. They had found Peter's statue destroyed and somehow, it had been too much for her. Her thoughts slipped away again. Then a girl's voice—it was Avis—declared angrily, "Of course she did it. Jealous!"

That was it. Avis had accused her of destroying Peter's precious work, and Peter—Peter had looked at her as if he believed it. Peter's angry, reproachful, accusing eyes had added their pain to her first shock over the discovery, until she could not bear it. It was all so horrible. Why couldn't she have kept her senses and defended herself against them? Why had they accused her, she wondered for a bewildered second. Oh, yes, she had been alone in Peter's room, alone in the dark when he and she came in and discovered the broken figure.

She moved her hands protestingly, opened her eyes. Cathie was bending over her. Terry was beside her, saying "She'll be all right, now. Just let her rest. Don't try to talk to her."

Camilla was grateful for that advice. She wished they all would leave, and decided to be very quiet until they did. But just then she began to sob unreservedly. Tried desperately to stop, and could not. "She's all right, now," Cathie pronounced. "Leave her alone. She can't help crying. That's the way you come out of a faint like that—either laughing hysterically or crying. Let's all get out of here. There, honey," she stroked Camilla's hand. "Take it easy now, and don't you try to leave here tonight." Cathie's voice was gentle with sympathy, but edged with resentment when she spoke to the others, and managed to persuade them all to leave.

Finally the door closed after them and left a heavy silence which expanded and filled the room. Camilla was quiet now, her eyes closed. She lay rigidly for some time, wondering what was entirely alone. Someone stirred across the room, came toward her where she lay on the couch. She opened her eyes. It was Peter. Her heart ached when she saw how haggard and pale he was.

He asked quietly, in a hollow voice, "All right?"

She nodded, and slow tears rolled weakly down over her temples. She could not stop them. "She held her hand toward him, hesitatingly, and whispered, "You—don't think—I did it, Peter?"

He did not touch her, drew his hand across his eyes, wearily. "I can't think. What's the use, anyway? It's done."

"But, darling Peter," she insisted desperately, "Surely you can't believe I would do that to you."

"Of course not," he replied dully, as if what he might believe was of little consequence. He was stunned, grieved, angered, puzzled. Accused anyone, or thinking anything, made no difference.

The thing on which he had labored and agonized for weeks, his possible opportunity for the Paris scholarship, his whole ambition, it seem now—all this someone had destroyed in one mad moment. Who, how or why was of no importance.

It had been Avis who insisted that Camilla did it for revenge for his neglect of her and attentions to Avis. No one else had agreed, but everything had been so confused, it didn't seem plausible that Camilla could have done the thing, even if she were justified. Still—someone had to do it—they had found her alone in the darkened room—but what did it matter, now?

He dropped listlessly into a chair beside her, covered his face with his big shapely hands. There was a long silence, while their thoughts revolved in restless circles, always back to the same unalterable tragedy.

Camilla sat up slowly, straightened her hair and rumpled clothes. Peter looked up inquiringly.

"I must go home," she said warily. "You are in no condition to go anywhere," he protested, "Here, let me help you get your dress off, so you can rest. You are going to stay here with me, tonight."

"But you don't want me to."

"Sure I do. Why not? Naturally, I don't feel very lively over—everything. Besides, I shouldn't let you go home alone, and it would be much better if you stayed here."

There seemed to be nothing else she could do. Under any other circumstances, she would have stayed gladly, to try to comfort him in his grief and disappointment. He had said he did not believe she was guilty, but there was that horrid weight of injustice that dragged at her heart and made it so difficult for her to say or do anything. As Peter had said, it was done, and no condemnation could change it. He could believe she was guilty, and still deny it. It made no difference to him.

The guests had gone, excited, in the traffic event of the evening, protesting her verdict. Avis was alone, as horrified as anyone involved in the traffic event of the evening. It wasn't just Peter's sculpture and his ambitions that were shattered, which had pre-eminence in her thoughts. What most appalled her was the sudden shattering of her own hopes and ambitions, which her clever management had promised success. She had proceeded cautiously, tactfully, with her influences over Peter. Everything had gone beautifully, until this evening. His sympathies gradually swerving in her favor, his criticisms of Camilla increasing gradually, his obligations and gratitude to her becoming more involved, his success imminent, his temporary separation from Camilla all but accomplished.

He had been too bold in her confidence. Had she flattered her power over Peter too soon, and Camilla had taken this revenge? There could be no other explanation. Her grief was a mixture of defeat and anger. She was cornered, no way out now. Still, still, she were made to believe that Camilla had done this despicable thing to him, it was the end for her. He never would accept for his wife the woman who had deliberately ruined his first chance toward success. Perhaps, after all, she still held the winning hand.

She wondered what might be going on now behind that other closed door. Poor Peter was so stunned and grieved that he couldn't even see yet. And with Camilla, just recovering—could that faint have been posed to favor her innocence?—very little probably would be said by either of them to-night. But she was glad that she had planned that little act of silence at the first moment—the only time that would have been opportune for it. She could not have waited until tomorrow and calmly told Peter that she suspected Camilla. Impulsively, naturally in such circumstances, she had acted as she first thought that came to her mind. What explanation was more plausible?

She opened her door into the hall, stealthily, and listened. No sounds from Peter's room. She closed the door again and resolutely prepared for the night. There was nothing else for her to do.

Chicago Geology Students Report Discovery In Lake Michigan

Lake Michigan's water level was uncommonly low in a recent week. Trooping along the shore near Chicago, a bevy of geology students from Central X.M.C.C. College of Arts and Science were so surprised to see parts of a submerged reef that they waded out to chip off samples. When they brought back the specimens to Instructor James H. Glasgow, University of Chicago graduate student, he stared at the stuff, decided it was white coral, sent it to university geologists who confirmed his opinion.

Divers were sent to survey Lake Michigan's coral reef. It parallels the shore for 1,500 feet, is flat on top, evidently shaven off by Pleistocene glaciers. Mr. Glasgow ascribed it to the Silurian period—400,000,000 years ago.

At that time the U. S. Midwest was covered by a broad bay of the ocean reaching up from what is now Central America, as numberless marine fossils found in the region testify. Lake Michigan's coral is the farthest north ever found.—From Time.

No Doubt About It

Publisher Need Not Fear Editorials Are Not Read

The Sault Ste. Marie Star is jubilant because it found a young man who prefers to read the editorials page first. The editor declares this has knocked on the head one of his favorite theories—that nobody ever reads the editorials.

Most editorial writers, it is true, often wonder whether their invisible audience is real or imaginary. But being human, sooner or later they err or unconsciously tread on somebody's toes, though ever so lightly, and come to the sudden realization that they have not been talking to themselves.—Fort Erie Times-Review.

MAKES FALSE TEETH FEEL LIKE NATURAL

There must be a reason Dr. Wernst's Powder is the world's largest seller and prescribed by leading dentists: it holds teeth firmly—they fit so comfortably—that all day long you forget you ever had false plates. Leaves no colored, gummy taste—keeps mouth sanitary, breath pleasant—the best powder you can buy yet cost is small—any drugstore.

The Ingenious Asiatic

Japanese Are Great Imitators And Stop At Nothing

Everybody knows that the Japanese are a wonderful people, but few of us understand just how wonderful they really are. Every day brings new proof. Virginia tobacco growers, according to a Times dispatch from Danville, are greatly disturbed by the threat of an imitation Virginia cigarette made from native Japanese tobacco and flavored with a German extract from cheap Virginia leaf. The ingenious little Asiatic people who can imitate foreign electric bulbs and bicycles and gramophones are now imitating Nature's work in our Piedmont tobacco fields.

Where will they stop? The prevalent impression is that they will stop at nothing. Universal unemployment threatens the nations because the Japanese will soon be making all the Grand Rapids furniture in the world, and all the Detroit automobiles, and all the Swiss cheeses, and British Southdown muttons, and French champagne, and Mexican tamales, and Brazilian coffee, and Australian wool.

In every industrial trouble anywhere in the world to-day the motto is "Cheer up, Japanese!" From the size of the Japanese "menace" there must be about 800 million Japanese and each one of them must be as clever as a thousand devils.—New York Times.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

A SINGLE PAGE

"What shall I do with my life?" you say.

"With the years that are coming, grave years or gay?"

And while you wonder, life slips away!

Life is a road that stretches far. Glad you finished, brave years that are.

And years yet to be, each aglow like a star!

The road goes winding, goes flowing by. From east to west and from sky to sky.

The road where your love and your toiling lie.

It wanders and reaches from rim to rim. Of far horizons, uncertain, dim, And no man knows what it brings to him.

Though your road for year after year Through many a strange and lovely place. You can shape it for only a single pace.

All of life that is given to any man To fashion after his hopes, bright plan Is a breath's brief space, is a foot-step's span.

Electric Light For Lhasa

British Firm Permitted To Do Work In "Forbidden City"

Lhasa, the forbidden—and forbidding—city of Tibet will shortly be lighted by electricity. English materials, and English workmen, who are used to going into remote and backward parts of the world with civilizing machinery, are going to Lhasa to carry out the job.

The transportation of the equipment will be one of the most difficult tasks ever undertaken by a British firm. Hundreds of tons of material and machinery will have to be carried over 400 miles of some of the most mountainous and almost trackless terrain in the world by mules and porters, aided in some places by yaks which are the only animals that can live at an altitude of 17,000 feet over which the caravan will have to go. More than 2,000 cases will be transported to the material, which will then be assembled and set up in Lhasa.

The forbidden city is not quite so forbidden as it was recently, but it must have been the monks who rule the city of 30,000 people much missing before they gave consent to a British firm to do this work. Probably it took years of persuasion to obtain that consent. Lhasa is the most priest-ridden city in the world, and the lamas are opposed to modernization, their rule being based on a fabric of superstition.

No white man ever visited the place until an Englishman named Thomas Manning found his way there in 1811, and no other man ever reached there until the British expedition in 1904. Since then only a comparatively few have penetrated the fastness, and even to-day it is a city of dirt and squalor, utterly without modern conveniences. This may be the first step in the modernization of Lhasa.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Forgotten By Time

Lost Race Of Primitive Savages Found On Pacific Island

Mrs. Zita Baker, a young British woman, has returned to England bringing with her a number of four centuries' worth among a "lost race" of savages.

Mrs. Baker is the wife of Dr. John R. Baker, of Oxford, leader of a scientific expedition sent out to the New Hebrides, in the Pacific, by the Oxford University Exploration Club. "Some of the islands," said Mrs. Baker, "had never before been explored by white men. The natives were among the most primitive aborigines I have ever forgotten by time."

"I used to go out with the women to cultivate the fields in the daytime. At night I slept with them in their huts. Often there would be as many as eight women to one hut. "Firearms were unknown on the island, and the men had to hunt with bows and arrows."

Latest Thing In Elevators

Works Perfectly Without Any Direction From Human Hand

The latest thing in elevators arrives at your foot in response to your signal. You open the doors, close them; goes about its business of collecting passengers at other floors, repeatedly opening its doors and closing them, repeatedly stopping, starting—all without direction from human hand.

It's happened to feel it, it's an interesting sensation to find yourself in the hands and apparently at the mercy of a giant without conscience, pity, or any regard for its human charges. But if no appeal is possible, neither is there cause for complaint. And after a few trips you consign yourself to the machine without a qualm, serene in the realization that not all robots are Frankenstein's.—Christian Science Monitor.

Supplied The Material

Toronto Woman Used Gold In Wedding Ring For Filling

A well-known Toronto dentist the other day had a lady come in to have a gold filling put in her tooth. "I'd like to supply the gold," says the lady. "Well, we don't do it as a rule," he began. "Oh, but I really want to supply this gold," she says winningly. He gives in and goes ahead with the mold. Next day she trots in with a wedding ring.

"It's only 14 carat and we usually use about 22," he explains. But she gets her point. "I'm going to be married tomorrow again," expands the lady. "This is my first wedding ring, and if I have it in my tooth I can still wear it without my second husband knowing anything about it. The dentist socked the yellow metal home."

IT'S LIVER THAT MAKES YOU FEEL SO WRETCHED

Wake up Your Liver

No Calomel necessary

For you to feel healthy and happy, your liver must be in good condition. It is the most important organ in your body. It filters out all the poisons from your blood and keeps them from entering your system. If your liver is not working properly, you will feel tired, sluggish, and generally unwell. You will have a yellowish tint to your skin, and your eyes will be red and watery. You will also have a bitter taste in your mouth, and your breath will be foul. All these are signs of a diseased liver. The only way to cure a diseased liver is by using a powerful liver medicine. There is only one such medicine in the world. It is called "Little Liver Pills." They are made of pure, natural ingredients, and they will cure your liver in a few days. They will make you feel healthy and happy again. They will wake up your liver, and you will feel so wretched no more.

ARM IN SLING WITH NEURITIS

A "token of gratification" this woman says she is giving when she writes of her relief from neuritis:—"For twelve months I have had neuritis in my arm, and up till the last two weeks have had to carry it in a sling. Since then I have abandoned my sling, am able to sleep undisturbed, and can perform household duties that previously I would not have done. These benefits I have received from Kruschen Salts. This has all happened in two weeks, and I am optimistic enough to think that in another fortnight I shall have said good-bye to neuritis once and for all. Call this a testimonial if you choose—to me it is a token of gratification."—(Mrs.) N. E. L. Neuritis is a result of impurities in the blood. And it is impure blood, circulating all over the system and setting the nerves on fire in the tissues, that causes those excruciating pains. Kruschen Salts can be safely taken to set the matter right. Because Kruschen contains just what Nature needs to persuade your internal organs back into a healthy, normal condition.

Little Helps For This Week

"For thus saith the high and lofty One who inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy; I dwell in the high and holy place with him also that is of a humble and contrite spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones." Isaiah 57:15.

Without an end or bound Thy life lies all outspread in light. Our lives feel Thy life all around, Making our weakness strong, our darkest bright; Yet it is neither wilderness or sea. But the calm gladness of a full eternity.—F. W. Faber.

O Truth or art Eternity; And Love who art Truth; And Eternity who art Love; Thou art my God, to Thee do I sigh day and night. When I first knew Thee Thou lifted me up that I might see some thing for me to see, and that I was not yet such as to see. And Thou streaming forth Thy beams of light upon me most strongly didst beat back the weakness of my sight and I trembled with awe, and I perceived myself to be far off from Thee in this region of unlikeness.—St. Augustine.

Had Excellent Memory

Arab Woman, Oldest In Holy Land, Died Recently

The oldest woman in the Holy Land has died at the age of 112. She was a Christian Arab living at Bethlehem. Until a year ago, her health was excellent. Her relatives state that she distinctly remembered the time, about 1840, when a British fleet assisted the Sultan of Turkey in driving out the Egyptians from Palestine. The fleet then bombarded some of the coast towns, and forced Ibrahim Pasha and his army to evacuate the Holy Land after a nine-year occupation.
